What legal issues did people seek assistance for?

Nine clients had 2 or more legal issues

A survey of caseworkers at Launch Housing found...

89% said having a lawyer onsite increased their understanding of legal issues affecting clients

78% said their clients had better outcomes as a result of seeking legal help than if they hadn't

78% said clients who were helped by Homeless Law might not have received legal help elsewhere

"I am able to be more informed about the legal issues by clients are facing, and then can pass this onto them."

"It enables much smoother referral for representation for clients. [It] possibly makes clients more trusting of lawyers if they're in the Launch office."
